STEVE'S GARAGE GUTTED BY MONDAY FIRE

The entire end of Steve's Garage on Mechanic Street was blown out and the inside destroyed when gasoline fumes in the building caused a fire and explosion early Monday afternoon.

The owner, Ransald Stevens, and Frank Swan Jr., working in the garage, ran outside and closed the door just before an explosion blew out the back wall of the establishment.

Four cars in the one-story structure were destroyed also. It is believed that the loss is partially covered by insurance. No estimate of damages or future plans of Mr. Stevens have been reported.

Bethel Fire Chief Roderick McMillin was in charge of two tankers and a pumper that responded to the 1:15 alarm.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Town meeting is over for another year. All recommendations of the Budget Committee were passed. The Budget Committee and Selectmen devoted a great deal of time and thought to the articles in the warrant and I am sure they appreciate the townspeople's show of faith in their judgment.

The highway department has been very busy with several small storms and high winds. By the time this goes to press it is hoped they have more time to devote to snow removal in the village before the spring thaw starts.

The new International Truck is scheduled to go to Skowhegan on Monday to have the plow mounted. It was the intention of the highway department to do this themselves but their work load is such right now it is felt we should send it elsewhere. Elwyn Dickey

NEW ZONING ORDINANCE ADOPTED; BUDGET SUGGESTIONS FOLLOWED AT TOWN MEETING

Possibly 100 Bethel voters attended the annual meeting held at Odeon Hall on Monday evening. Appropriation accounts received a total of $115,364 as a result of action occurring at the session. Of this amount, a total of $20,325 was approved by the townspeople to be taken from surplus. The recommendations of the Budget Committee were followed with change.

In the election held during the day at the Bethel Fire Station, Rodney Eames was re-elected as a selectman for three years. Mr. Eames defeated his opposition, Harold F. Clukey, 233-76. For the accompanying post of assessor, Mr. Eames had 234 votes to 74 ballots cast for Mr. Clukey.

In what many consider to be the upset of balloting Theodore Chadbourne was defeated for re-election as a Director of School Administrative District No. 41. Rev. Robert Jackson with 227 votes and Mrs. Musa S. Brown with 190 votes were elected as School District No. 44 Directors from Bethel. Mr. Chadbourne trailed with 147 votes. Mrs. Violet Bennett, unopposed, received 298 votes for Town Clerk. A total of 310 ballots were cast.

During the business meeting, after much discussion of at least a half hour duration, article 12, seeking the adoption of "A Zoning Ordinance for the Town of Bethel", was acted on affirmatively. The new code supplants the ordinance enacted in 1958.

On motion of Leland Brown, the citizens voted to change the zoning map to permit central business commercial zoning to a depth of 150 feet on the southerly side of Railroad St. from their easterly property line of Marguerite Summer to Church St. Also an amendment was approved to permit the construction of motels in residential-farming areas, which were not permitted in the original proposal.

The article to accept the Act to incorporate the Bethel Water District was passed over as the legislation had not yet been passed by the State Legislature.

The selectmen as town managers, were authorized to execute a contract with the Central Maine Power Company for street lighting. The contract will terminate in 1977.

In other action the selectmen were authorized to appoint a tree-warden and an electrical inspector. An affirmative vote was received on the article to rename the Bethel Air Park in memory of the late Lt. Col. Sidney Dyke (USAF Ret.).

It was evidently the opinion of the meeting to have further study of the requested sewer extension on Paradise Road and to consider the project again at a later meeting.

The townspeople voted to permit the continuation of the policy to charge one-half of one percent per month or any part thereof after Dec 31 of the commitment year.

Permission was granted to authorize the selectmen to sell part of the property at the rear of the Town Garage to Frank Lowell.

Following the annual town meeting the Board of Selectmen selected John Brown to serve as chairman for the ensuing year. Other members of the Board are: James Hutchins, Rodney Eames, Dr. James Hudson and J. Jay Willard.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

March 5, 1967

The Editor
Bethel Citizen
Bethel, Maine
Dear Editor:

May I once again bring to the attention of your readers the services of Friends of Animals, the national organization for which I am a Volunteer Representative. I find that so many unwanted puppies and kittens are born annually in this country—estimated to be not less than 50,000,000 in 1965. FFA urges its workers to reach as many pet owners as possible where they may serve by issuing certificates for altering and spaying. If the owner would find this a financial hardship himself.

Already a good number of people in this area have availed themselves of this offer, and can be complimented on their making sure that they do not add to the unwanted population. When a certificate is issued it is a confidential matter between the FFA representative and the owner and the owner is chosen by the owner. We have three cooperating veterinarians who accept the fee paid by FFA within a thirty mile radius of Bethel. Dr. James Hudson, Bethel; Dr. Charles Hervey, Rumford; and Dr. Charles Gaudin, Norway.

There just are not enough homes for all the kittens and puppies born. In fact many who do adopt are neglectful and abandon the animals. A dog or cat is a domesticated animal and continues to some people's opinions, an animal which for many generations has been domesticated, and easily revert to the wild state and fend for itself. They suffer from cold and sometimes from lack of food. Animals such as cats and dogs can destroy their property and are animal which are freely more subject to diseases and bacteria than resulting in various epidemics and fatal diseases such as rabies.

A cat can be a great help to a person who is suffering from the various diseases of cats and their response to people and environment. A friend of mine who has a cat which is alone during the day. She found that it has many cats in the house. She lives in an apartment and the cat lived with alone until she found this solution and now the cat and the children are all happy. Most cats love flowers and gardens and will spend hours being happy in them. I have seen cats scratch up and cause damage at an appealing time every day.

I have noted that while many people call about what to do about the stray cat problem, few call trying to locate a missing cat. A fellow FFA volunteer on Cape Cod has told me dozens of cats appear at her door especially after the summer ends. In her recent area, and set no more stray cats waiting or around. She humbly takes them to a vet. They have to be put to sleep. We do not have an animal control law in this area, or a humane organization to help with problems such as I have mentioned. But if you who are concerned want to help solve this problem, you must know of your own area. I am sure you are interested to help.

Please do call or write me if I can assist with Friends of Animals activities. Telephone 215-243.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth M. Carter

courses could be used to the maximum benefit of all personnel. Study guides will be used as an orientation before each course. All personnel will watch the Monday night programs if possible. The hospital conference room and television will be reserved on Fridays at 2:30 p. m. for the benefit of those who are unable to see the Monday night programs. Each department and shift will hold a one-half hour review session on the following Wednesday to evaluate and discuss the program.

E. E. Loubler, hospital administrator, expressed gratitude to the Bingham Associates Foundation and the Maine Hospital Association for their foresight in initiating this fine contribution to nursing continuing education. "With medical advancements growing at an accelerated pace, the television media offers an excellent means of keeping our nurses up-to-date with current trends in medicine. We are pleased to have our nurses participate in intensive education through this course, and hope similar courses will be forthcoming in the future," Loubler stated.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS

From the American Medical Association:

Weather and Health
With another season of winter cold at hand, millions of Americans are dreaming again about going South for the winter—"for their health."

This brings up once again a question that has long puzzled physicians—What effect does climate actually have on health? Should the physician advise a patient to try a change of climate for his health?

There is no pat answer. Sometimes a change of climate helps. Sometimes it doesn't.

Researchers say that the human body functions best at a temperature of about 68 degrees. They also know that babies and older people have more difficulty in adjusting to drastic changes in temperature. Diabetes appears to be more controllable in the tropics. Stress diseases—ulcers, heart disease, hardening of the arteries—are less frequent in the South. Do sufferers from hay fever and other allergic ailments fare better in an arid, warm climate? Sometimes. Others find the native plants in the southwest just as troublesome as those in the North.

If you are contemplating a change of climate for health reasons, by all means consult your family doctor first. He knows your family's medical history and emotional patterns. He may suggest four or five different spots that might be helpful to you. Or he might tell you that, as far as your health is concerned, you might just as well stay home.

Today's Health, the family magazine of the American Medical Association, lists several do's and don'ts to keep in mind in considering a cross-country move for health reasons—

DON'T make a change of climate hastily, on the basis of rumors from someone who spent two weeks in the new place. People tend to overrate the climate where they live and play

TYLER ARRIVES IN VIETNAM

Army Specialist Four Gerald H. Tyler, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Tyler of Glendon arrived at Cholon, Vietnam, Feb. 24 with his unit, the 632nd Heavy Equipment Maintenance Company.

The company, previously located at Fort Bragg, N. C., is part of the 1st Logistical Command.

Spec. Tyler, a mechanic in the company, entered the Army in October 1965. He attended Gould Academy, Bethel.

down his shortcomings.

DO keep in mind that as important as a change of climate are proper diet, pure water and air, plenty of sleep, adequate exercise and a healthy mental outlook. It's sometimes hard to separate the therapy of sun and fresh air from the stimulus of a new setting.

DO try to live in the new locale on a try-out basis for a while, a year if possible, before severing ties with the old home town.

DON'T defy the weather. If it's cool, put on extra clothing. If it's hot, wear light clothing and cut down on activity. Study your reactions and plan accordingly.

DON'T expect immediate results from the new climate. Many people have found a change of climate a road to better health. Some have not.

Remembering that "Easy does it" on slippery pavements is a first step toward safer winter driving, says the Maine Highway Safety Committee. Slow down well in advance of intersections, follow at a much longer than normal distance, and use the gas pedal sparingly.

Every prudent driver carries a spare tire, jack and lug wrench for emergencies. For winter driving emergencies, the Maine Highway Safety Committee reminds drivers to carry the following emergency equipment in the trunk: a tow chain, sand, shovel, tire chains and booster cables.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

The event of the Resurrection brought a new perspective to the vision of man. No longer was he restricted to the little distance of an earthly existence. The horizon melted away, as it were, and he could glimpse beyond the clouds the golden glory of eternal life. It is so in every individual life, when to each of us Easter becomes personal and real.

SKI TIPS

THE FORWARD SIDESLIP

By Ace Manley
Director, Big Bromley Ski School

The forward sideslip is not really a "maneuver" in skiing, but it is an important part of the American ski technique. It is valuable to know because it is actually the finish of every advance turn.

The forward sideslip is used primarily by advanced skiers in a difficult or troublesome situation. In effect, they are simply allowing the skis to slide, rather than trying to complete more turns as a way of regaining control. In this sense, the forward sideslip becomes an emergency step.

In a forward sideslip, the skis are sliding together. For this to happen, the skis must be in the traverse running position. In this position, the knees and ankles are flexed forward. And the weight is on the downhill ski.

To enable the skis to slide, begin a traverse run at a very slow speed. Next, bring the knees out over the skis. This slight "up-unweighting" will eliminate the angulation and flatten the skis to the slope, so that the sideslip will begin.

But be careful that the tips of your skis do not run downhill. If this happens, the skis will be brought around into a downhill running position.

To maintain the proper sideslip, the weight has to be evenly distributed throughout the length of the skis.

Sidelights from a History Scrapbook

Abraham Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was born March 3, 1847, in Edinburgh, Scotland. Bell was 24 when he arrived in Boston to teach "visible speech", a method of training the deaf to speak which his father had developed. Early in his career, Bell was ridiculed as a crank and a fraud. After publication of the telephone, hundreds of inventions tried to cash in on the invention. In nearly a hundred lawsuits, five of which resulted in the Supreme Court, Bell was upheld as the original inventor.

Chicago officially became a city on March 4, 1837, after operating under a town form of government since 1833, when the first meeting of the town trustees was held. In the summer of 1834, there were 800 inhabitants. In 1837, according to the first census — Chicago had a population of 4,170. Needless to say, the city has been growing since that time.

Americus Vesputius was born March 9, 1451. An Italian navigator, Vesputius went to Portugal to secure employment and took part in a voyage to the New World. His ship reached the coast of what is now Brazil. Upon his return, Vesputius drew a map of the land he had visited and a German who was compiling a geography wrote the name America across the land Vesputius had described. This map was copied so often that the name America came to common usage.

4,998 CLAIMED BENEFITS UNDER EMPLOYMENT SECURITY LAW IN JANUARY

Maine's insured unemployment level in January was 10.3 percent, the lowest since 1954 when it was 10.1 percent. The level was 10.3 percent in January 1966.

The mid-month insured unemployment rate in January was 9.8 percent compared to 9.8 percent for mid-January 1966.

Maine paid $200,000 in benefits during January this year to persons unemployed and covered by the MESL law. However, mainly due to changes in the benefit formula of the law, this amount represents an increase of $20,000 over net benefits paid during January last year.

Through the Unemployment Compensation Division and from Federal funds, the Commission paid $1,000,000 in benefits to January to former Federal employees and ex-government. An additional $20,000 from other Federal funds was also paid to former Federal employees to provide unemployment benefits to persons who had been employed by the Federal Government and were laid off.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone who brought tickets from me and supported me Friday night, March 3, 1967, during the carnival competition. I wish to give special thanks to the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce for selecting me to compete as a candidate for Carnival Queen. I was proud to be a representative for Bethel and I am especially honored to have been chosen as runner-up to the Queen. I also wish to express my thanks for the support of the various organizations and individuals who again made this day so special.
